LAVENDER'S INHERITANCE.

BY ALICE AND CLAUDE ARKWE.

(ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.)

CHAPTER XXX.—Continued.

Lavender had won. With a little gap she saw ten lous nonchalantly tossed to her own feet.

"You're certainly in luck, Miss Marlow."

How much shall I take off for you this time?"

Lavender had almost forgotten that Reggie was still there at her elbow. He was leaning over the table now to the obvious discomfort of the two ladies, with their cards and their pins—ready to carry out Lavender's commands.

"Oh, please," she cried, "leave it just as it is. I don't want anything up."

She felt she dared not touch a single one of those—her—little—golden—pins. And if they were left alone they were bound to be worn up directly—then it would all be over.

She knew now that she was no gambler, and that she could not force herself to be one.

"I say, you're jolly good," said Reggie, "but no knowing; you may strike a run."

Reggie cast her a glance of deep appreciation.

There was a movement of chair upon chair

other side of the table. David Bryant had risen from his seat, and was pushing his way out. Lavender glanced just as he had waited to see what she was going to do with her stake, and that the fact of her leaving it had decided him to go. "The money," he had been her imagination, but she could not divert herself of the uncomfortable sensation that for some reason or other she small as it was so far, had affected him.

"That's a funny queer thing," she heard someone say behind her. "Bryant's given up

—and he was winning, too."

"I've an idea," whispered Reggie with a chuckle, "that that chap on the other side of the table, who's just gone out—I don't know if you noticed him—his name's Bryant

and he's a friend of yours—well, he's been backing the 'impair' and winning on it. But he's recognized that he's a beggar, and that that luck is likely to favour you—and so, at

you have elected to bet against him he's given in. Funny, isn't it?"

Lavender did not think it all funny. More than ever she loathed the 50 golden coins lying on the table before her. They seemed to selves importunately about the smaller fry

single lous and five-franc pieces. "Why couldn't the croupier scrape them off and have done with it?"

Again she won, and yet again. And to Reggie's amazement, she refused each time to have a single coin removed. The twenty lous became forty, the forty eighty.

"I say, you know," said Reggie, with understanding admiration, "you must be a born gambler. People don't often run up to the maximum as fast as that—why run up to it? It's in the nature of the thing that the words cut her deeply. She drew a deep, sobbing breath. "Oh, I'm not—I'm not," she panted, "I've been so lucky, I know how I hated it. I won't touch the money

now a single piece." She almost sobbed out the words, but Reggie, who had been

looking at her with a mixture of surprise and

amusement, had turned to look at the croupier

who had just strolled up to her and said:

"She's letting her stake run up to the

maximum." "And I believe it will come off

exactly," said Reggie, who was looking at Lavender's eighty lous with a mixture of

astonishment and admiration. "Eighty lous

is a good deal, and we began with one."

Lavender realised that she was in a position. The croupier, who had been looking at her with a mixture of surprise and

amusement, had turned to look at the croupier

who had just strolled up to her and said:

"She's letting her stake run up to the

maximum." "And I believe it will come off

exactly," said Reggie, who was looking at

Lavender's eighty lous with a mixture of

astonishment and admiration. "Eighty lous

is a good deal, and we began with one."

STATE SOCIALISM.

NEW CEMENT WORKS.

PROPOSAL OUTLINED.

The Public Works Committee yesterday

took evidence as to the advisableness of establishing State-owned works for the manufacture of Portland cement.

Mr. W. J. Hanna, Under-Secretary, Department of Public Works, read a report, and submitted an exhaustive statement, prepared by Mr. F. O'Connell, manager of the Milburn

Cement Company, in New South Wales.

It was stated that the Government was paying a very high price for its cement. Mr.

O'Connell had inspected sites—where fuel, limestone, and shale could be obtained, and localities, suitable for the manufacture of cement, had been visited. It was suggested that the tongue of land in the vicinity of the State Brickworks, at Homebush, would be the most suitable place for the erection of cement

works. Mr. O'Connell estimated in his report that the plant would cost about £40,000—

£25,000 for the Government land, and £15,000

for the premises on Government land, and £25,000 for the present price paid by the Public Works Department. Therefore, the State manufactured article would be £1 per ton cheaper. The total quantity of cement required by the Government was estimated at 45,000 tons per annum. With its own works the Government would be able to effect a saving of £45,000 on every 30,000 tons

it manufactured. The whole of the cost of the

THE WEEK IN LONDON.

AN AUSTRALIAN'S NOTES.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

Two Great Schools.

LONDON, July 19.

Two of the great English Public Schools have just celebrated their jubilee—Clifton and Halebury. It is difficult for Englishmen to realise how new their public schools really

are. Clifton is one of the greatest schools

for the army in England, and yet until comparatively lately it did not possess a single general purpose school. Halebury, which was founded in 1882, Malvern as late

as 1860, Wellington in 1883, Marlborough

in 1843, Cheltenham in 1841. Not one of these schools—ranging from 40 boys at

Clifton to 478 at Malvern—was in existence

70 years ago.

A Great Master's Ideal.

If one's personal opinion is of any value

it is that the public school is the most im-

speaking an abstraction or an exaggeration

when one says that the public school is the

FARMING WITH EXPLOSIVES.

The use of explosives in the work of the pioneer farmer is not new in connection with the clearing of timber, but as an agency for the breaking up of land with satisfactory subsoil, the system is of more recent date. There are several compounds in the market for the purpose, and a demonstration of one of them called "Fendrock" was given at Roseville on Saturday last, on an area of land that is being cleared for orchard purposes. With the aid on an augur, holes were bored into the clay at an angle for about 18 inches, and a charge was put in. The result was the displacement of

GRAFTON EGG-LAYING COMPETITION.
GRAFTON.—In the egg-laying competition the Grafton Experiment Farm, A. C. Partridge, pens of white Leghorns beat the list for the first fortnight of August, with 72 eggs. Mrs. A. F. Wallis' pen with 67, Mrs. J. G. Gifford's with 66, and Mr. L. J. Gifford's each 67. Mr. McKintick's pen has the largest total since the competition was first carried out in 1932, Mr. L. J. Gifford's with 182.

DISEASE AMONG BEAN CROPS.
BERRYGON BAY.—A serious disease has made its appearance among the bean crops around Berrygong Bay, and is destroying the present season's crop. The plants and pods are becoming brown and spotted. The plant appears to be suffering from a few leaf spots, but the farmers made up to £60 from their crops, but this season the £60 are not theirs. The disease is depending on the weather and will be great losses. The disease is attributed to bad seeds.

TIMBER-BORING BEETLE.
HOBART.—Inquiries regarding the timber-boring beetle, Lyctus fulvus, which has been reported as doing much damage in Melbourne to houses built of Tasmanian timber, and to the timber of the Sydney Harbour Bridge in Tasmania. It is considered most probable that the beetles were carried over from the mainland in timber, and if any were, they have developed in new surroundings a voracity which they do not possess here.

DAIRYING.
WALLBORN PARK.—The output of the Hawker's Agricultural Co-operative Dairy Company for July was 30,902lb of butter. Suppliers were paid 1s 10d per lb net. Some 171,366 gallons of milk were sold for 1s 10d per cwt. The new machinery recently installed at the factory is working well. The company has a large shed for the storage of milk, and a manager to provide cold storage for the treatment of the rabbits trapped in the district. The company has a large shed for the treatment of 500 rabbits are trapped daily, and is quantity would be considerably increased if cold storage was available.

MEETINGS OF FARMERS.
HOBART.—At a meeting of the Tasmanian Harbour Agricultural Society Mr. W. C. Carey's motion to the effect that the secretary should be authorised to call on the Government to subsidise the society to enable the committee to hold a meeting for a show this coming season, was unanimously agreed. The secretary was instructed to apply to the Minister for Agriculture, through Mr. Briner, M.L.A., for a special grant of £500.

GRAFTON.—At a meeting of the Clarence River farmers and producers' and commercial growers' association, held at Grafton, on July 10, with the Farmers and Settlers' Association.

DISTRICT ITEMS.
ARMADALE.—At the monthly meeting of the Armadale Pastures Protection Board, the local stock statement was read and the minutes of the last meeting were read. It was decided to of $1000 of this amount in the New South Wales Bank at fixed deposit. The stock in question reported that pastures were good looking for sheep, many holdings having ample stock. The sheep, 24 head, was an ample winter supply.

CANDREWINDRA.—The Candewinda show will be held on the 24 and 25. Over £25000 has been spent on improvements. The President has been asked to officially open the new season.

RABOON.—Farmers, who have been unable to plough owing to the weather, are now commencing to start their winter sowing operations. Those who have finished sowing are now clearing the ground for ploughing. There is a prospect for corn and potatoes, there is every indication that a large area of corn will be raised. Those crops during the approaching spring.

DOFFS HARBOUR.—At a meeting of the Harbours Board, Mr. J. W. McLean, the Harbour Board, was appointed acting-chairman of the Board during Mr. McLean's absence.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

The Department of Agriculture has arranged for the following courses of instruction in the Department of Agriculture, on Thursday and Friday next, at the Agricultural College of the Kewville branch of the Agricultural Bureau.

THURSDAY, 15th.—Friday next Mr. B. N. Makin, Director of Agriculture, will lecture on "Fodder Crops and their Utilization."

FRIDAY, 16th.—Friday next Mr. B. N. Makin, Director of Agriculture, will lecture on "Fodder Crops and their Utilization."

RAILWAY SERVICE SUPERANNUATION BOARD.

At a meeting of the Railway Service Superannuation Board, held on the 15th inst., eight members over 60 years of age and eight under 60 years of age were appointed to the Board. The members of the Board were:—Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President; Mr. J. W. McLean, President.

Mr. Kane, 40 years of age, of the name of Kane, Sydney, says:—"I went for a pot of Doan's Ointment, and used it for Eczema on my little toe. It did me good. The rash covered the brow completely, and it was round the eye as well as the face. It was very itchy, and I was very uncomfortable. I used it and kept her from sleeping, which was hard on all of us. I had used several other ointments, but none of them gave me any relief. I am pleased to tell you that I am well and feeling better since used it on another little girl with the same trouble."

My Witnesses,

My literary witnesses include Mr. Hall Caine, E. F. Benson and Madame Sarah Grand. I can assure her writing that 'Sanatogen has done even more for me than I said to be able to do for cases of nervous weakness. I can take it after nearly four years' enforced idleness and I find myself able to enjoy both work and play.'

"Art supplies us with such a wealth of material," Walter Crane, while among actors you 'I have found Sanatogen a most valuable during a period when I had to work under conditions of great weakness and I can recommend it to those in similar circumstances.'

Weakness B

"In the social world Lord E. B. Lytton would add his evidence to that of the other witnesses. 'Sanatogen,' he says, 'has given me a healthy tone and the whole human organism is fulfilling its functions in the most perfect manner.'

"I may further refer to the fact that the physicians to crowned heads of Europe have testified to that of over fifteen years that they have prescribed Sanatogen with gratifying results."

of the teeth with powders or pastes does not thoroughly cleanse them; it leaves their condition and that of the mouth unimproved

What the teeth and mouth need is Odol, which antiseptically purifies the mouth, and, being liquid, penetrates the minutest cracks and crevices in and between the teeth, cleansing every part of all the teeth—not merely where they show. While tooth pastes and powders can, at the best, be effective only during the few moments while being used, the antiseptic and refreshing power of Odol continues gently but persistently for hours.

"These are my Witnesses, M'lud."

"NEVER before has such an array of distinguished men and women been gathered together as are here to testify to the undoubted supremacy of Sanatogen above all other restorative, reconstituent and revitalising preparations.

"They represent every phase of life and form a group as comprehensive as it is distinguished.

"They will testify to Sanatogen's value in that prolific field of nervous disorders which, manifesting themselves in disordered sleep, disordered nerves and disordered digestion, extend to Neurasthenia, which bankrupts the sufferer's nervous system and, unchecked, may lead to the most serious consequences.

Nerve Sufferers' Praise.

"They will prove, beyond all doubt, that Sanatogen enables the healthy man to live the strenuous life without unduly feeling its effects; that it gives perfect health to the convalescent, and restores the complete nervous balance even where it has been grievously disturbed.

"Sir Charles A. Cameron, that eminent Chemist and Public Analyst, will tell you that 'Sanatogen is a substance of the highest nutritive value, containing a large amount of phosphorus in exactly the form in which it can be easily absorbed. It is an excellent nerve food.'

"From among distinguished prelates I will cite the evidence of the Bishop of Bath and Wells and Father Vaughan, while from many Members of Parliament whom I might call Sir Gilbert Parker will depose: 'I have used Sanatogen with extraordinary benefit. It is to my mind a true food tonic, feeding the nerves, increasing the energy, and giving fresh vigour to the overworked body and mind.'

"And Mr. Marshall Hall, K.C., M.P., among distinguished legal practitioners, says: 'I believe Sanatogen to be a most excellent food.'

"My literary witnesses include Mr. Hall Caine, Mr. Max Pemberton, Mr. E. F. Benson and Madame Sarah Grand, the last of whom will endorse my writing that 'Sanatogen has done everything for me which it is said to be able to do for cases of nervous weakness and exhaustion. I began to take it after nearly four years' enforced idleness from extreme debility, and now I find myself able to enjoy both work and play again.'

"Art supplies us with such witnesses as Mr. R. W. Leader, R.A., Mr. F. Spence-Webster, R.R.A., and Mr. Walter Crane, while among actors Sir John Hare will tell you 'I have found Sanatogen a most valuable tonic and stimulant during a period when I had to work very hard under conditions of great weakness and ill health. I can heartily recommend it to those working under similar distressing circumstances.'

Weakness Banished.

"In the social world Lord Edward Spencer Churchill will add his evidence to that of Lady Henry Somerset, who says: 'When the body is subjected to a course of Sanatogen, the invigorated nerves are braced to a more healthy tone and the whole human machinery is made fit for fulfilling its functions in the most perfect manner.'

"I may further refer to the fact that no fewer than ten physicians to crowned heads of Europe have added their testimony to that of over fifteen thousand other doctors that they have prescribed Sanatogen with the most gratifying results."

Sanatogen may be obtained of all Chemists. A free descriptive booklet, written by Dr. Andrew Wilson, and entitled "The Art of Living," will be sent post free, to all who write for it to Messrs. A. W. & Co., Bond-st., Sydney, N.S.W., and mention this paper.
